ALLEY

What happened to all of you this month? Has the summer tired you out? Your Editors have gotten very little cooperation on this issue! So do to circumstances beyond our control this issue will be rather small.

LAST CALL for reservations on the Nassau Tour.

Last month's Hare and Hound Rallye was different instead of following dots of paint through out the course, the teams were instructed to turn at +, -, +-, --, -+, and ++ signs, adding an interesting touch by counting all the + and - symbols and dividing them finally to get an answer plus the corrected mileage leaving out the crawling around on the street to find the next turn. Hats off to Leo and his wife to come up with something new.

Gene's Field 'Dust Bowl' Trials lead to quite a few comments again this year. We didn't have any baskets for the drivers to run over also we didn't have Ed Inabet to appear either. The rain stayed away so the course was not like the cover on checkpoints which the pictures were taken last February in case you all were wondering when it happened. Word has it that Bill Whitehead was first over all in this event. The course was very well layed out except when you had to drive through your own dust cloud. Gene had a nice shiny black air-conditioned car when he started the event but so much participation caused the air filters to clog up and the car to turn a nice tan color. Did you have fun washing the car?

The meeting this month due to the UGF program will be held at the Pine Camp Center, with slides and movies of past events this summer being shown; so if you all want to see your selves come on out.

Our Rallye this month will be a Time-Speed-Distance event, with allowances to make up lost time. We promise not to have any pots, but you had better be on your toes. Even the new rallyists should be able to get through this event, but in case of rain bring your boats, no I didn't say boots. A dog sled or two might help in case of snow though.

"DEATH OF A PARTNERSHIP"
(Fair Hare Rallye)

For years Leo and I have rallied together, high in the point standings but not one out right win. I should have realized long ago that if you can't win with them try winning against them. It works! Since our wives seperated us, we have both dropped way below the top twenty, but my last real goal has been realized finally with a real live first place!

We were determined that this night there would be one key agreement, we each kept a seperate score of marks, and we would use the highest of the two in case of a difference. We found that Leo had solved the hare and hounds problem; sharp eyes required but not so much - get out and run around business that wears you out and wakes the neighborhood.

I have told Oleta many times before that one must drive slowly and never miss the route to have a chance of winning. She must be tired of hearing it, for she never exceeded 15 mph through out. As a results we had only one small excursion, our fault. We left among the first and reached the end only ten minutes before the deadline, I figured the answers; and by luck had Oleta recount the marks on our score sheets and I had 30 +'s and she had 31. Did I forget that one at the lot?, remember our agreement, recalculate, hear's hoping. You mean with all those plain marks we are the only ones with the right number?! And only 10 minutes to go, but some good rallyist still out. Let's go home, out to the car, here comes some more, back in side. Back to the car, but only 5 minutes to go, might as well wait it out, back in side. What some one else got them right? How about the tie breaker. And we took such sloppy readings. We're still ahead? And it's 11:30! Let's go home really and will believe it in the morning. Leo looks worried says they'll never believe it wasn't fixed.

How wonderful, since Oleta helped win maybe I won't have to hide the trophy!
